

Interactive comment on “Correlations between total cell concentration, total adenosinetri-phosphate concentration and heterotrophic plate counts during microbial monitoring of drinking water” by E. Siebel et al.

H. van Dijk (Editor)

j.c.vandijk@tudelft.nl

Received and published: 27 April 2008

I want to encourage the authors to improve and resubmit their paper as I think the subject is very interesting for the readers of DWES. Also I think the paper contains a valuable new approach towards characterizing the biological quality and stability of drinking water which very important.

Interactive comment on Drink. Water Eng. Sci. Discuss., 1, 71, 2008.